About This Game

Space Thinger is a thrilling arcade space shooter! Fight your way through multiple combat zones mining asteroids for crystals and collecting the debris of your fallen foes to upgrade your ship and engage in ever more epic space battles. Take on bonus missions for even greater rewards whilst keeping the emphasis firmly on close quarters space dog fighting.

Master a new mission in every zone

Every zone has it's own unique mission, be it collecting artifacts, defending a space station or destroying transmitter probes! Each will reward you with resources to upgrade your ship although failure will not stagger your progress.

First person and Third person perspectives

Switch between first person and third person perspectives at the press of a button. Choose whichever mode suits your play style.

Thrilling arcade combat loop

Fight a fantastic array of simultaneous combatants whilst making sure to collect enough upgrade materials to keep you alive and ensure success in your next epic battle.

Turn on random enemies for endless game variation

Select the Random Enemies option and on top of it's standard set of foes each level will spawn an additional horde of ever more dangerous threats to test your skill and provide endless mission variety.

Varied enemies with a plethora of different armaments

With lasers, missiles, lightning, fireballs and the ever classic devastating beam attacks your foes will pound you with everything they've got. But keep an eye on the resource stealing factory ships plundering your resources to make more foes and hazards for you to fight.

Reach the safety of hyperspace to upgrade your ship, weapons and countermeasures

Over thirty upgrades to keep your ship ready for even the toughest combat scenarios.

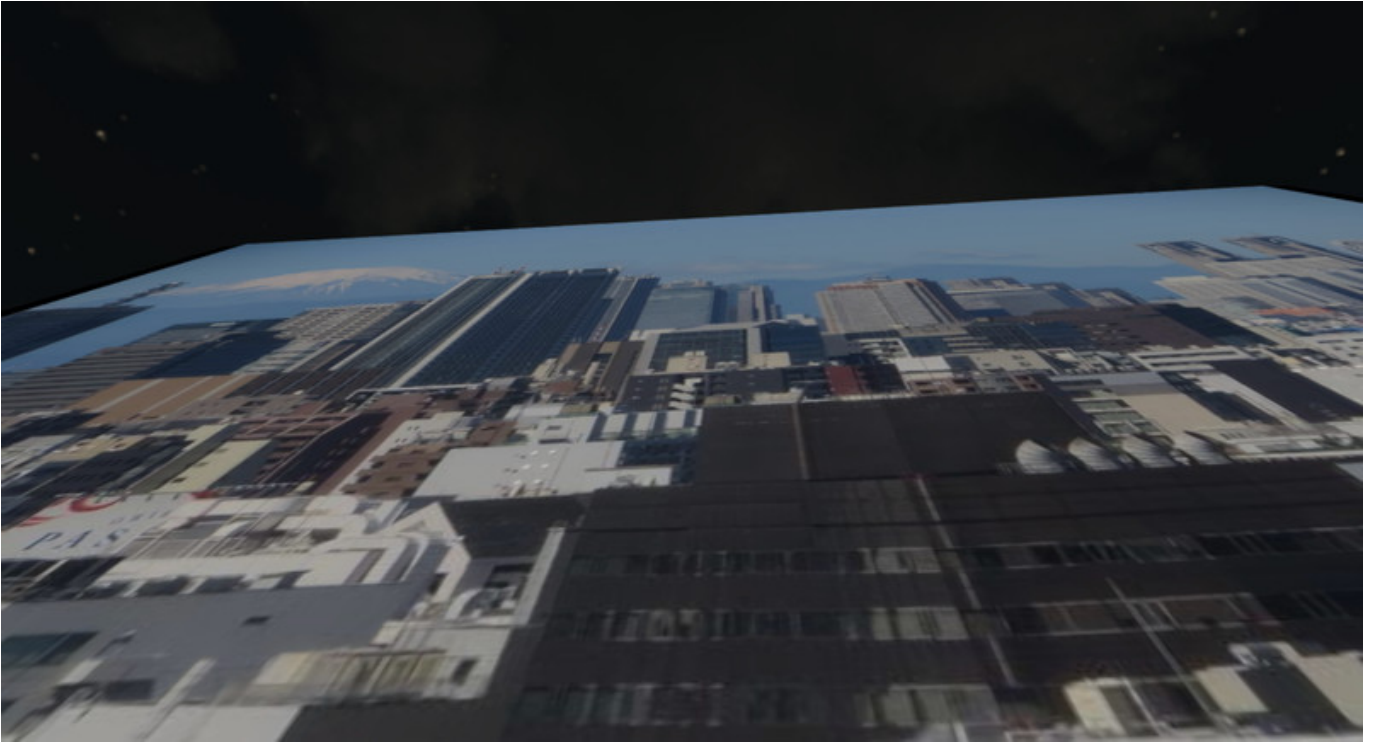

Fast and furious fun, Space Thinger takes you straight to the heart of adrenaline pumping space combat action!

Very nice game => Fascinatingly. wow, that was bad.. This game is brilliant considering the fact that this game is free there really is no reason to not pick this game up and give it a try. I have only played this game for a short amount of time but its is amazing if you can get friends to get this game aswell it really is a charm 10/10.. Cute and fun game that's actually more of a puzzle game than the usual point & clicke adventure that you'd expect from Wadjet Eye Games. Actually it reminded me of the old Gobliins, with each bot having specific actions it could do. But, you know, much easier. Or you can think of it as sort of an escape-the-room style game, even if "escaping" is not always the goal.

One potential minus is that, unlike I believe all other WEG games (hmm, is that redundant? not sure), this one has no achievements.

It's also pretty short, took me less than 3 hours to solve, though I did miss one bonus artwork-unlocking collectible somewhere. Of course this is only a minus to those without huge backlogs :). Yea not that fun!. i dont know what to say this is badest game ever. I love this game because this game was my favourite game when i was 3 years old and still love it [?][?][?]. Graphic is fine, the gameplay doesn't, you have little to no control over everything, the game have too much hidden information while you have too little resource to find out what's going on, let alone act against them.

While most of your action are luck depends, you could not afford any back-up plan.

On top of that they seems to be always one step ahead of you to get those tech with devastating effects, and some random event to make you feel bad as they always lock out your agents for few days if you want to be a good guy, which you could never afford.

If you really into the setting, come back much later to see if they improve it at all.. This is my go-to game to play when my legs are tired from playing roomscale games. It is a seated experience platforming game. You control a Mervil in third person (or first person if you can stomach it) and run around killing monsters and collecting pages and coins, and there are also some challenging puzzles.

There are different comfort modes: my favourite is where you have the camera stay in place and you press a button to teleport your camera to your mervil, or if you can stomach it you can have the camera always follow right behind your mervil.

This game doesn't use the motion controllers, so you will need a controller. I play it with the Steam Controller. Also, there are parts where you have to use your head, literally. For example: in one level there's a tightrope where leaning your head also leans your mervil.

While I have more fun in room-scale games where I can use the motion controllers, I can only play those games for a few hours before my legs are too tired and I must sit down. And when I'm sitting down I'd much rather play a seated VR game than a 2D game. And this is my favourite seated VR game right now.

I highly recommend this game because the price is very low for the quality and amount of content in the game, plus it's not even finished so the developer will be adding even more content to the game!

- 1) Fairly blatant port from a non-PC source. It really adores having you press the function keys (F5, F6, etc) for everything.
  - 2) It crashes periodically for me.

Bad first impression. I'll probably keep giving it a try, but, eh...h...

[EDIT]

I kept trying. It crashes consistently for me, enough so that I can't complete the first level. I can't even get far enough into the first level to feel like the end is in sight, and what little gameplay I've been able to find is riddled with minor imperfections that make me wonder if this was tested at all.

The interface and gameplay just don't feel good, and the program itself doesn't work. Seeking refund, advise anyone interested check the community discussion board before buying.. The developer really listens to what the community has to say and is attentive at what changes need to be made. The game has made improvements and this should probably be in an early access stage, since developments are still occurring, but the developer does what most don't and that's listen. In time, I believe this game will evolve into a classic.. Turn it on and go play another game while it runs then come back and hour later to trim some branches then leave again.. Cyberhunt is a infinite twin-stick shooter game set on a cyberpunk world. Pretty funny 8bit game. Bought it for 0.43 Euro.. This game took me about 3-4 hours to beat on the first go around. While short, Luca does an amazing job of telling 5 different stories that all showcase the power of choice. This is a very heartfelt game and worth every dollar.. Ported directly from phone to PC with some oversights for PC.

Lock on to enemies which can harm you more than help you, when doing the tutorial it told me to swipe to punch? Swipe what exactly? Had to mash my keyboard to find out the correct button to use. Can't use the mouse scroll wheel to navigate menus, but you can click and drag.

Yeah, no.
